Opportunity for Viewers

Homework Express is now offering an exciting opportunity for viewers – a chance to have their work shown on our show! Producers are accepting and reviewing work from our viewers to be aired on a future episode of HX.

We're looking for stories from your schools. Ideas for segments can be almost anything, but should illustrate math and science concepts or feature students and teachers who are unique, have achieved something or have a compelling story to share.

We will announce that the segment is student-produced when it is aired on the show, and will include the school's name in the upper-right hand corner of screen throughout its airing.

Generally, student submissions should be thirty seconds to one minute long and on Mini-DV, DVCPRO or DVD.

For more information on requirements for the segments and to download the necessary forms, visit www.homeworkexpress.org.

PARTNER PROFILE

Local Starbucks coffeehouses have partnered with Homework Express to help provide prizes for callers.

Named after the first mate in Herman Melville's "Moby Dick," Starbucks purchases and roasts high-quality whole bean coffees and sells them with fresh, rich-brewed, beverages, a variety of pastries and confections, and coffee-related accessories and equipment. Starbucks sells whole bean coffees through a specialty sales group, produces and sells bottled Frappuccino and premium ice creams through joint venture partnerships, and offers a line of innovative premium teas produced by its wholly owned subsidiary, Tazo Tea Company.

The Company's objective is to establish Starbucks as the most recognized and respected brand in the world. There are currently 5,028 company-operated coffeehouses and 2,633 licensed locations. Starbucks was also named one of Fortune's 100 Best Companies to Work For in 2005.

Visit one of the local Starbucks locations: in Austintown, at the I-80/Rt. 46 interchange, in Boardman near I-680 and in the Eastwood Mall in Niles.
