Homework Express

Homework Express is a studio-based television program show that broadcasts live from Youngstown State University. Middle school math and science students can call into the show and have their questions answered live, on-air. One of our two select area teachers will help the student work through their question. Activities on the show include "Brain Builder" and a science segment filmed in science labs at local schools.

Chinese Proverb

If you are planning for a year, sow rice; if you are planning for a decade, plant trees; if you are planning for a lifetime, educate people.

PARTNER PROFILE

Teen Xtreme is a program developed by the Public Library of Youngstown and Mahoning County. Their website, www.teenxtremeonline.org, includes links for students about education and careers, life and important events – like getting a driver's license. There's also contest and a calendar of upcoming Teen Xtreme events at Mahoning Valley libraries – not to mention computer help and online games.

Show Incentives

Homework Express producers are searching for people and businesses that can provide incentives for student callers. Items in the $10 range are ideal. Your company will be mentioned on air - a great marketing opportunity! Please call or e-mail Homework Express if you're interested in helping.
