Free Math Help 5 Days a Week

November 1, 2007

EPISODE SPOTLIGHT

Our Halloween themed episode was full of surprises! Several trick-or-treaters stopped by to answer some math questions and received some candy from Kelly. Homework Express had everything from a pumpkin carving contest to a member of the shout out crew that only had a head! The set was also decorated with the beautiful colors of fall and the spookiness of Halloween.

PARTNER PROFILE

Chipotle adds spice to Homework Express

Chipotle Mexican Grill started with the vision of Founder Steve Eells, who wanted to offer great tasting tacos and burritos to customers at an affordable price. The first Chipotle opened in 1993 near the University of Denver. Now, Chipotle has more than a hundred restaurants all over the country. Chipotle's slogan is "Food with integrity." For the consumer this means knowing that a great deal of care has gone into each menu item.

Chipotle Mexican Grill believes in giving back to customers and their communities. Chipotle promotes positive change by supporting education, community improvement and the arts.

YSU Junior

During the show you can find her operating the phones. It gives her the opportunity to connect with and get to know the students that are calling into the show.

"Homework Express gives me the chance to apply what I've learned in the classroom to the show." "It's also a way to get to know my professors better and to network with other students in my major," Peterson said.

After graduation Nicole is hoping to pursue a career in radio broadcasting. Although, working on Homework Express has made her consider going into television one day.
